FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

The Phoenix Astronomical Society Is Offering Another Free Lecture on Galaxies: Inside the Universe's Star Cities

Phx.: The Phoenix Astronomical Society is proud to announce another Fall Lecture Series event on Thursday November 5, 2026 at 7:00 p.m. at the Paradise Valley Community College, Building Q - Conference Center - Classroom 120A ,17811 North 32nd Street, Phoenix AZ 85032.

The lecture titled " Galaxies: Inside the Universe's Star Cities " will be given by David J. Eicher, Editor-in-Chief Emeritus of Astronomy Magazine.

Bright matter in the cosmos is organized into some 100 billion galaxies, and perhaps many more. This talk will explore the nature of galaxies from the Local Group to the edge of the observable universe.

David J. Eicher is Editor-in-Chief Emeritus of Astronomy Magazine, author of the Deep Sky Wonders column in Sky & Telescope, creator of 26 books on science and history, and a member of the boards of the Starmus Festival and of Lowell Observatory.

This is a free lecture open to the public; however, we request everyone to preregister by going to www.pasaz.org "events"
